The auditor should not consider the Supplement to be “safe harbor” for identifying audit procedures to apply in a particular engagement, but the auditor should be prepared to justify departures from the suggested procedures. The auditor can consider the supplement a “safe harbor” for identification of compliance requirements to be tested if the auditor performs reasonable procedures to ensure that the requirements in the Supplement are current. The grantor agency may elect to review audit working papers to determine that audit tests are adequate.

I. PROGRAM OBJECTIVE

The purpose of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Grant is to increase the capacity of State and local governments to support the development of more effective education, training, research, prevention, diversion, treatment, accountability based sanctions, and rehabilitation programs in the area of juvenile delinquency and programs to improve the juvenile justice system.

II. PROGRAM PROCEDURES

The awarding Federal agency (DOJ) announces its programs available for funding in the Federal Register. The State submits its Application for Federal Assistance (SF 424) and DOJ reviews the application and approves it with an Award Document (Form 4000/2) which provides the grant period, the award amount, special conditions, etc. The State accepts the Award by signing the Award Document and returning it within 45-days from the beginning date of the Award. The State must submit a State Plan applicable to a three-year period with annual updates to include new programs or to modify existing programs. The State Plan must provide for an advisory group, appointed by the Governor, to participate in the development and review of the comprehensive plan and its annual updates. The Department of Justice approves the State Plan. Two-thirds of the grant funds must be passed through to units of local government, local private agencies, or Indian Tribes performing law enforcement functions. Fiscal year action funds may be carried forward for obligations for two years subsequent to the fiscal year of the award.
The State then announces its programs available for funding every year by November in its “Announcement of Availability of Federal Grant Funds.” All eligible applicants are listed in the “Announcement”. Eligible applicants are local units of government, councils of government, universities or colleges, independent school systems, state agencies and the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians. Eligible applicants (Implementing Agencies) then submit a pre-application for a project for review by the Governor’s Crime Commission. Grant applications are available from the Governor’s Crime Commission web site at www.ncgccd.org. Once the pre-applications are reviewed and ranked, selected recipients are then notified by April 1st that they are then required to submit a full application with additional information for review. Once a grant project is finally selected for funding, a Grant Award is issued which provides the federal award amount, the grant period, special conditions, etc. The grantee accepts the award by signing the Award document and returning it within 30-days from date the award is mailed. The grant project must be operational within 60-days of the beginning of the grant and so certified by a Notice of Grant Implementation Report.

The Office of Justice Programs Financial Guide and the GCC Grant Award Packet must be used for the administration of this grant.
